

REVIEW OF RESEARCH

ISSN: 2249-894X

IMPACT FACTOR : 5.7631 (UIF)

UGC APPROVED JOURNAL NO. 48514

VOLUME - 8 | ISSUE - 9 | JUNE - 2019

SOCIAL MEDIA AND ELECTIONS

Dr. P. B. Naragund

Associate Professor, Dept of Political Science, S.V.E.S. Arts, Commerce, Science & Bca College, Harugeri. Karanataka.

ABSTRACT:

The use of social media in politics as well as Twitter, Facebook, and YouTube has dramatically modified the manner campaigns square measure run and the way Americans move with their electoral officers. The prevalence of social media in politics has created electoral officers and candidates a lot of responsible and accessible to voters. and therefore, the ability to publish content and broadcast it to legion folks instantly permits campaigns to rigorously manage their candidates' pictures supported wealthy sets of analytics in real time and at nearly no value.

KEYWORDS: Key Options of Social Media in Politics, Strong Opinion role of participation, Social Significance.

INTRODUCTION

Social media is enjoying a fantastic role in Indian democracy. Political parties and politicians have incised out a distinct segment in reaching resolute the young population. The first time, once social media in India, was determined as AN elementary tool for spreading data was the touch-and-go scenario, wherever it came handy saving the lives of the many. this concept was taken and it had been exercised in national elections wherever it modified the dimension of ancient election system wherever for the primary time, on-line citizen registration and transparency campaigns came to fore. It prompted political parties reaching resolute the voters through social networking websites.

KEY OPTIONS OF SOCIAL MEDIA IN POLITICS PRIMARY RELATION WITH VOTERS

Social media tools as well as Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube enable politicians to talk on to voters while not disbursement a dime. victimization social media permits politicians to avoid the normal methodology of reaching voters through paid advertising or attained media.

ADVERTISING

it's become fairly common for political campaigns to supply commercials and publish them at no cost on YouTube rather than, or additionally to, paying for time on tv or the radio.

Often, journalists covering campaigns can write of those YouTube ads, primarily broadcasting their message to a wider audience at no value to the politicians.

AGENTING

Twitter and Facebook became instrumental in organizing campaigns. they permit like voters and activists to simply share news and knowledge like campaign events with one another. that is what the "share" operate on Facebook and "retweet" feature of Twitter square measure for.

Then-candidate Donald Trump used Twitter heavily in his 2016 presidential campaign. Political campaigns will faucet into a wealth of knowledge or analytics concerning the people that square measure following them on social media and customise their messages supported selected demographics. A campaign could realize one message applicable for voters beneath thirty years previous won't be as effective with those over sixty.

FUND COLLECT

Some campaigns have used supposed "money bombs" to boost massive amounts of money in an exceedingly short time. Money bombs square measure generally 24-hour periods during which candidates press their supporters to give cash. They use social media like Twitter and Facebook to urge the word out and sometimes tie these cash bombs to specific controversies that emerge throughout campaigns. The popular philosopher Daffo Paul, United Nations agency ran for president in 2008, musical group a number of the foremost successful money-bomb fundraising campaigns.

DILEMMAS AND ISSUES

Direct access to voters conjointly has its draw back. Handlers and public-relations professionals typically manage a candidate's image, and permanently reason: permitting a political candidate to transmit unfiltered tweets or Facebook posts has landed many candidate in predicament or embarrassing things.

END RESULT

Asking for feedback from voters or constituents will be a decent factor. And it will be a awfully unhealthy factor, counting on however politicians respond. Many campaigns rent staffers to watch their social media channels for a negative response and scrub something candid. however such a bunker-like mentality will create a campaign seem defensive and closed faraway from the general public. Well-run contemporary campaigns can interact the general public in spite of whether or not their feedback is negative or positive.

STRONG OPINION

The value of social media is in its immediacy. Politicians and campaigns do completely nothing while not 1st knowing however their policy statements or moves can play among the voters. Twitter and Facebook each enable them to instantly gauge however the general public is responding to a difficulty or difference of opinion. Politicians will then alter their campaigns consequently, in real time, while not the utilization of costly consultants or big-ticket polling.

MANY PEOPLE POWER

Social media tools have allowed Americans to simply be part of along to petition the govt. and their elective officers, leverage their numbers against the influence of powerful lobbyists and moneyed special interests. Make no mistake, lobbyists and interest group still have the superiority, however the day can return once the facility of social media permits similar voters to hitch along in ways in which are even as powerful.

ROLE OF PARTICIPATION

Social media are championed as permitting anyone with a web association to become a content creator and empowering their users. the thought of "new media populism" encompasses however voters will embody disenfranchised voters, and permit the general public to own associate engaged and active role in political discourse. New media, as well as social media platforms like Facebook and Twitter, will enhance people's access to political data.

SOCIAL SIGNIFICANCE

The fight against political misperceptions is key to democracy, however so as to form an efficient response, we tend to should perceive the mechanisms that promote the acceptance of falsehoods. the simplest proof that we've so far suggests that social media area unit prestigious, however that they're not a primary reason for falsehood endorsement. this can be not Associate in Nursing excuse for complacency with relevancy social media. it's clear that these communication technologies area unit being employed to market misperceptions for political ends, and although the consequences area unit tiny, tiny effects matter. moreover, there may be little doubt that makes an attempt to use social media to deceive can become a lot of refined. those that look for to advance political information to market their own interests could notice new ways in which to show technology to their advantage. a lot of significantly, misperceptions don't seem to be the sole threat expose by manipulations of social media. several different forms of problematic info don't seem to be thought-about here.

Social media's modest role in promoting endorsement of candidate falsehoods could, for instance, be dwarfed by its capability to market conspiracy theories. The technology provides a novel chance for comparatively tiny teams of individual to search out each other, forming communities of like people United Nations agency work along to affirm their beliefs.

POLITICAL choices Since currently it's the time of the web, the result of net has extended each space. Politics is not any exception, the connection between organization and vox populi has been influenced by new media.

New media includes on-line newspaper, blogs, social media and then on. a lot of and a lot of folks like new media than ancient media as a result of the less limitation of latest media, like time limitation and area limitation. the majority have a mobile phone or a pc. they'll catch the news anytime in anywhere. As a result, new media includes a bigger impact on folks. Politicians additionally notice new media may be a more practical thanks to convey their message, and that they use it to draw in supporters. for instance, each Barack Obama and also the White House have Facebook page and Twitter. they'll simply communicate with the general public and gather them along by "share" and "like it", which is able to profit their political activities particularly for presidential campaigns, as a result of social media will facilitate the candidate get their vote.

One study ended that social media is permitting politicians to be perceived as a lot of authentic with a key finding that shows voters feel politicians to be a lot of honest on social media, compared to interviews or TV shows. this can be the case particularly among young voters, United Nations agency preponderantly use these variety of mediums, this reveal a brand new elector base for politicians to charm to directly. vox populi additionally have an effect on politics through the new media. New media provides a two-way communication, that achieves Associate in Nursing interactive role. folks will directly send message to government and politicians will comment on-line. If folks area unit discontent with the govt., they'll categorical their thought through social media and see people on-line. once those comments gather along, it'll draw vox populi to target the wrongdoings of presidency. Since new media includes a giant user base, the political activity is followed by a lot of folks than before.

New media lets folks higher supervise government behaviour. Also, governments will understand vox populi through new media as reference for higher cognitive process. though new media has each positive and negative result on politics, it narrows the connection between the general public and politics. Public isn't solely Associate in Nursing info receiver any longer. folks can also provide their recommendation and opinion to the govt.. Government even have an opportunity to urge to grasp the thought of voters.

CONCLUSION

The results area unit indicative, that the employment of social media channels for political activities, influences folks, political efficaciousness, political data, and political participation. The study additionally suggests that social media users might evolve their data discovering, political activities in social media. This has helped them enhance their political data, increase their political efficaciousness, and improve their political participation. Moreover, there was Associate in Nursing upsurge within the social media usage for political activities in recent years. Politicians have embraced social media as a result of they all right understand wherever and the way to search out the youth of the country.

REFERENCES.

- The Editorial Board. Facebook and the digital virus called fake news. The New York Times; 2016.
- Rainie L. Social Media and Voting. Pew Research Center; 2012.
- Rainie L, Smith A, Schlozman KL, Brady H, Verba S. Social Media and Political Engagement. Pew Research Center; 2012.
- Garrett RK. Troubling consequences of online political rumoring. Human Communication Research. 2011;37(2):255-274.
- Allcott H, Gentzkow M. Social Media and Fake News in the 2016 Election. Journal of Economic Perspectives. 2017;
- www.thoughtco.com
- <http://blog.konsolegroup.com>
- www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov