

INFORMAL EDUCATION OF TOMORROW

Dr. Ajeeta Jagdishbhai Jani
M.A., M.Ed., M.Phil., Ph.D.

ABSTRACT

Human life has got two aspects the biological and sociological. Through education, he learns new ideas of life. Education is difficult term. Many thinker give different definitions of education.

As interpreted by various educational thinkers, we can classify them into formal, non-formal, active passive, commercial non commercial agencies of education.

We can discuss some of the important agencies and their function for education. Home is the first informal center of education. The child-learn from family love and affection, adjustment, obedience, co operation and sympathy. The community teaches vocational, moral, intellectual, religious development. Community-establish good schools and coordinating various agencies. School is also one of informal medium of education. State establishment and organisation of education. It is necessary to control on educational agency. State make primary education compulsory. It is helpful to school economically. Some religious institutions are work for character, cultural, spiritual social development. Religious erect a holy behaviour in man. So we discuss about some informal agencies of education.

We can say that informal education is not pre planed, it is incidental. The child gets own experiences from life so informal education is life long process and it built a hall man.

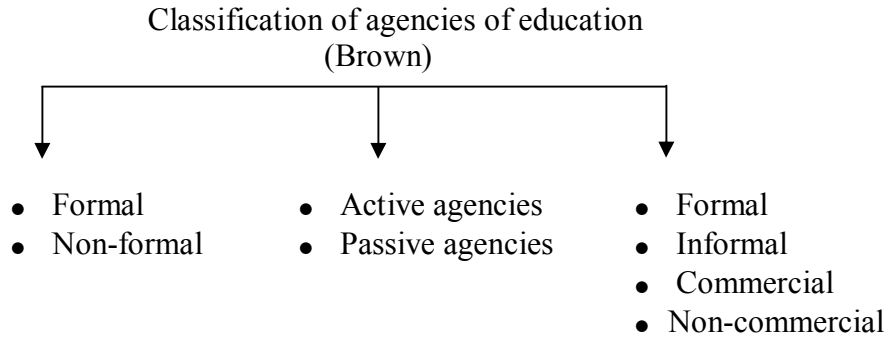

Key Words: biological and sociological , various educational thinkers.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

Human life which is the best creation of God, has got two aspects, the biological and sociological. Biological aspect is found in plant and animal, but sociological aspect found in human life alone. Through education, he tries to seek new ideas and new ways of life. Education is one of the life process. Now the question arises, 'what is education?'. It is very difficult term. Different philosophers, educationists, thinkers, political, merchants, artisans will give widely different definitions of education according to their own outlook of life.

2.0 TYPES OF EDUCATION

If we study the meaning of education, as interpreted by various educational thinkers, we can classify them into following agencies of education ;

3.0 AGENCIES AND THEIR FUNCTION FOR EDUCATION

We now discuss in detail, some of the important agencies of education:

TABLE - 1
Important Agencies and their Functions

No.	Agencies	Educational functions
1.	Family (Home)	First informal center of education Education of love and affection Education of selflessness, tolerance, adjustment, obedience, co-operation and sympathy. Development of physical, emotional, language, character, social virtues Transmission of culture
2.	Community	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Development (vocational) • Intellectual development • Moral development • Religious development Establishment of good school <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provision of adult education Co-ordinating various agencies
3.	School	Conservative functions of school : (According to Nunn) Education of National History Education of National tradition art and culture Education of knowledge and science Transmission of culture Progressive functions of school Neutral functions of school

		Revolutionary functions school Fundamental functions schools
4.	State	Establishment and organization of education Necessary control on school educational agency Making primary educational compulsory Determination of educational aims Provision of teachers training Provision of education for National Defence Training for good citizenship Arrangement for vocational and technical education Organising seminars and work shops Economic help
5.	Religious institutions	Character development Cultural development Spiritual and social development Some of the holy behaviour create in man

4.0 IMPORTANT OF INFORMAL EDUCATION

After discussing the role of agencies in education, we discuss about important of informal education :

- It is not preplanned.
- It is quite incidental.
- The child gets while moving and living in the community, with other persons.
- The child picks up the ways and habits of his community.
- It is casual and gained through daily experiences and activities.
- It starts from birth of a child and continues till death.
- The children were initiated into the ways of the group quite informally.
- The children learnt the trade of their parents by actual living in the community and participating in activities.

5.0 CONCLUSION :

Informal education, therefore is that modification of behaviour which comes about necessarily and spontaneously without any conscious effort for it.

Education is the life long process. Education is the process of cradle to curve. A various agencies of education built a man in his life. So all the agencies of education built a hall man.

REFERENCE :

- (1) Agraval S. K. : Theory of Education, Rajesh Publishing House, 729, Pyarelal Sharma Road, Meerut (U.P.).

- (2) Kesavprasad and others : Theory of Education, Dobba House, Nai Sadak, Delhi.
- (3) Safaya R. and Shadia B. : Development of educational theory and practice, Dhanpat Rai and Sons, Jullundhar, Delhi.
- (4) Valia J. S. : Principles and Methods of Education, Pall Publishers, N.N.11, Gopalnagar, Jullundhar.

Dr. Ajeeta Jagdishbhai Jani
M.A., M.Ed., M.Phil., Ph.D.