IQAC COORDINATOR - THE PIVOT OF INSTITUTIONAL QUALITY ENHANCEMENT AND SUSTENANCE

Dr. A. Srinivasacharlu

Assistant Professor of Education & Former IQAC Coordinator, New Horizon College of Education (Aided), Indiranagar, Bangalore, Karnataka.

ABSTRACT:
India has one of the world’s largest and diverse education systems. The access to higher education has improved owing to wide-ranging expansion, privatization, augmented autonomy and beginning of programmes in new and emerging areas. However, at the same time, this also led to concern on the issues like quality and relevance. The National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) were established in 1994. It has the vision of making quality assurance an integral part of the functioning of degree colleges and universities. NAAC recommends that every institution which is accredited, should establish an Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) as post-accreditation quality sustenance. The IQAC is meant for planning, guiding and monitoring Quality Assurance (QA) and Quality Enhancement (QE) activities of the colleges. The present paper revolves around the IQAC coordinator who remains the fulcrum of institutional quality enhancement and sustenance. The paper suggests the soft skills and professional skills to be absorbed by the IQAC coordinator; the role to be played by him/her; challenges facing him/her and empowerment of him/her.

KEYWORDS: Higher Education, NAAC, IQAC and IQAC Coordinator.

INTRODUCTION
Higher Education sector in India has witnessed a tremendous increase in the number of Universities/University level Institutions and Colleges since Independence. As of February 2017, there are 789 universities, 37,204 colleges and 11,443 stand-alone institutions in India, as per the latest statistics from the UGC website. Higher Education in India has been undergoing massive changes during post globalization period. Indian Society’s expectations from higher education have kept changing with different social concerns, economic situations and political conditions. Increasing competition, demands for accountability and higher volumes of available information are changing the functioning of institutions of higher education. In view of this the institutions have to focus on quality concerns to stand out in the society locally nationally and globally.

SURFACING OF NAAC
India has one of the world’s largest and diverse education systems. The access to higher education has improved owing to wide-ranging expansion, privatization, augmented autonomy and beginning of programmes in new and emerging areas. However, at the same time, this also led to concern on the issues like quality and relevance. Thus there was a strong need to address these concerns. This led to advocating of an independent National accreditation agency by the National Policy on Education (NPE, 1986) and the Programme of Action (PoA, 1992). As a result, the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) were established in 1994 as an autonomous institution of the UGC with its head quarter in Bengaluru, Karnataka State, India. The directive of the NAAC is reflected in its vision statement. It aspires for ensuring quality assurance as a vital part in the functioning of degree colleges and universities.

INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL (IQAC)

NAAC recommends that every institution which is accredited, should establish an Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) as post-accreditation quality sustenance. The IQAC is meant for planning, guiding and monitoring Quality Assurance (QA) and Quality Enhancement (QE) activities of the colleges and universities. The IQAC can coordinate the institution’s efforts and measures towards excellence. The IQAC should become a driving force for ushering in quality by working out intervention strategies to remove deficiencies and enhance quality.

IMPORTANCE OF IQAC

IQAC has the main task that involves the promotion of a system for cognizant and steady improvement in the all-round performance and excellence of institution. Its existence can ensure heightened level of clarity and focus in institutional functioning towards quality enhancement; ensure internalization of the quality culture; ensure enhancement and coordination among various activities and institutionalize all good practices; provide a sound basis for decision-making to improve institutional functioning; act as a dynamic system for quality changes in institution and build an organized methodology of documentation and internal communication.

CONSTITUTING OF IQAC

Every institution can constitute IQAC under the stewardship of the head. It can have the members such as heads of academic and administrative units, select teachers, eminent educationists, representatives from local management and stakeholders. The composition of the IQAC will depend on the size and complexity of the institution. The composition of the IQAC may be as follows:

- Chairperson: Head of the Institution
- One of the senior teachers as the IQAC coordinator
- A few senior administrative officers
- Three to eight teachers
- One member from the Management
- One/two nominees from local society, Students and Alumni
- One/two nominees from Employers /Industrialists/stakeholders

IQAC gives stakeholders a cross-sectional participation in the institution’s quality enhancement activities. The membership of the selected members can be for two years. The IQAC can meet once in four months at the minimum. At least two-thirds of the members should be present in order to make the meeting valid. The agenda, minutes and Action Taken Reports are to be documented with official signatures and maintained electronically.

It is obligatory for the IQAC members to carry on the responsibilities of generating and promoting awareness in the institution and to devote time for working out the procedural details. While selecting members several precautions need to be taken. A few of them are listed below:

- It is advisable to choose persons from various backgrounds who have earned respect for integrity and excellence in their teaching and research. Moreover, they should be aware of the ground realities of the institutional environment.
- It would be appropriate to choose as senior administrators, persons in charge of institutional services such as library, computer center, estate, student welfare, administration, academic tasks, examination and planning and development.
- The management representative should be aware of the institution’s objectives, strengths and limitations and is committed to its improvement. The local society representatives should be of high social standing and should have made significant contributions to society and in particular to education.

IQAC COORDINATOR

The coordinator of the IQAC can be a senior faculty with proven expertise in quality aspects. He/she should be the fulcrum of institutional quality enhancement and sustenance. Secretarial assistance can be facilitated by the administration of the institution. It is preferable that the coordinator should have sound digital literacy, its various functions and usage for effective communication.

EMPOWERING IQAC COORDINATOR

Following are few of the strategies for the empowerment of IQAC coordinator:

Understanding the Institution: IQAC coordinator should understand the nature and functioning of his own institution and colleagues and experts. He can seek advice and help from the experienced colleagues for bringing improvement in the quality of institution.

UGC Orientation Programme and Refresher Courses: The UGC-Human Resource Development Centre (UGC-HRDC) at select universities organizes orientation programmes and refresher courses on thrust areas for in service teachers and also for newly appointed teaching faculty. These courses among other matters, also provides opportunities for serving teachers (who are working as IQAC Coordinators) to exchange experiences with their peers and mutually learn from each other on issues of quality concern.

Journal for all Subjects : www.lbp.world
Workshops, Seminars and Conferences: IQAC coordinator can attend seminars, workshops and conferences on the issues related quality concerns of higher educational institutions.

Invite Experts: IQAC coordinator can invite quality experts to visit the institution and request them to provide the suggestions for the improvement in the functioning of the institution. He can seek them to model NAAC inspection, assessment and accreditation of the institution. This can set tone for making necessary corrections and improvements in the quality matters concerned with the institution.

Visit Other Institutions: IQAC coordinator can visit other institutions which have got 'A' grade and make case study of them and take the inspiration to bring quality in his own institution.

Publications: IQAC coordinators can publish their conceptual and research based papers in journals, magazines, newspapers etc. on quality concerns. This can improve their communication ability, gain confidence and establish professional network. In addition they can enrich themselves by studying the conceptual papers and research findings published by other IQAC coordinators.

Attending Public Lectures: IQAC coordinators can avail the opportunity to attend public lectures on topics relevant to education at local places. These lectures are in general organized by NGOs, government bodies etc. They can contribute immensely to the knowledge of them and give rich exposure to them.

CONCLUSION

The IQAC Coordinator of the institution remains the pivot around whom the institution’s quality enhancement and sustenance rests. Thus it is the prime responsibility of IQAC coordinator to initiate, plan and supervise various activities that are necessary to increase the quality of the institution. Given the complexities in the field of education in 21st century, it is expected that IQAC coordinator need to constantly update him on the issues of quality concern and which helps him to do justice the position of IQAC coordinator.
